Introduction

Autumn brings with it the abundance of the harvest, the air of woodsmoke and the scent of the forest floor. This is game season and as such we hope that we can recommend some new wines to you which will match the seasons offerings.

We have furthered our development of more natural wines on the list (although our mantra remains the same, the wines must be clean and enjoyable, not a challenge to drink).

So please ask for our thoughts on food and wine matching and if you have any queries on wines unfamiliar to you, we are naturally happy to try and help and guide where we can.
